

Dr. Myra Corrello
of
Find Your Spice Seminars, presents

For over 20 years, Myra has been teaching professionals how to become effective presenters. Now, she has compiled her 10 most valuable lessons and wants to share them with you!

The 10 Absolutes for a Successful Presentation

A teleseminar series
Tuesdays, Oct 6, 13 & 20
4:00 to 5:00 p.m. CT

If you find yourself having to:

- sell yourself
 - sell your services
 - sell your organization
 - sell your ideas
 - in any form –
- this program is a must for you!

In these 3 content-filled hours, you will learn:

- The necessary steps to prepare for any presentation
- What, where & how to research to build your speech
- The crucial litmus test for making effective content choices
- How to bring your message to life
- How to connect with every member of your audience
- How to plan for the unexpected
- How to get your audience engaged and keep them engaged
- How to use visuals effectively

It's not enough to know your material, you must to be able to present it with confidence, clarity & "connectability"

The Series will be especially beneficial for:

Non-profit executives who must present their message to prospective donors, members and the public

Business development specialists who must sell clients on the value of the firm and its services

Technical professionals who must present technical information to those from non-technical backgrounds

Entrepreneurs who must successfully represent their business to potential clients, investors and the community

Emerging executives who wish to refine their communication skills to better connect with all stakeholders

Myra will be joined by Emmy Award-winning journalist, talk show host & author Monica Pierre

Register Today!

www.FindYourSpice.com/teleseminar

All 3 sessions only $87